Juvenile home expansion OK'd

By Shay Wessol
Staff writer

Rehabilitation plans for the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home are back in motion.

Just before Christmas, the county jumped over the last obstacle delaying plans for renovating Haller House, the county facility for juvenile offenders.

Approval was given by the state fire marshal, county Buildings Committee members said.

Before work on the Edwardsville facility's facelift could begin, the county needed approval from the fire marshal and the state Department of Corrections.

DOC approval came last month. Officials said they hope to establish a date to begin bidding the $1.1 million project in several days.

"Hopefully, we can still have our bid date in late January or early February so we can get it before the board," said Marty Siglock, the county's maintenance supervisor.

With approval of the bids by the full County Board at its February meeting, construction could be under way by spring.

"Hopefully, we can still have our bid date in late January or early February so we can get it before the board," said Marty Siglock, the county's maintenance head.

said architect William Gran of A&J/Carroll Inc. Plans call for adding seven new cells, repairing a leaking roof, installing a sprinkler system and adding more restroom facilities.

State investigators have cited problems at the detention home for years, including overcrowding and lack of a sprinkler system and adequate toilet facilities.

The renovations will address all code violations and will bring the facility up to state standards, Siglock said.

'Family reading' gets a boost

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

If parents are to take an active role in their children's reading — something Lake School Principal Helen Schmeiser advocates — schools must be willing to provide the parents with reading resources.

So Schmeiser used a $1,000 Chrysler Learning Connection family reading grant to establish the Family Reading Club at her elementary school. The club holds regular meetings to discuss and discover family reading.

More than 70 parents and children in November attended the group's initial meeting, which began with a pizza supper.

Schmeiser, kindergarten teacher Betty "Kiki" Supp and first grade teacher Mary Velloff held parent-child reading sessions and read to the children.

Using the grant, the Family Reading Club has purchased books, audiocassettes and cassette players for a lending library to be used by parents and children.

The group meets the first and third Monday of (See READING, Page 6A)

Venice may install gas pumps

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Tired of paying retail prices for gasoline and diesel fuel for city vehicles, Venice is looking in installing its own gas pumps.

Alderman John Ervin said Tuesday that he has checked into setting up city motor fuel tanks and found that the tanks must be approved by the Illinois Environmental Protection agency.

Also, he said, permission for the fuel point must be granted by the State Fire Marshal's Office.

The City Council gave its consent for the city to fill out the state application for a fuel point. After the application is approved, Ervin said, the city will be able to call for bids to supply gasoline.

He said preliminary inquiries indicate wholesale gasoline prices run in the area of 88 cents per gallon.

Ervin said the city may also want to approach the Venice School District and Venice Park District to see if those taxing bodies would be interested in sharing the gas pumps.

Ervin said part of the cost of constructing the fuel point could be covered by motor fuel tax funds.

In other business, the aldermen unanimously approved a year-end bonus for all city employees. As in past years, the bonus is $135 per employee.

Sergeant suing for damages

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City Police Sgt. John Apperson is suing the city and former police chief Don Knight.

The suit, filed in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville on Tuesday, alleges that Knight, "maliciously contriving and intending to injure (Apperson's) good name," falsely, maliciously, wrongfully, wantonly and without any probable or reasonable cause, issued Apperson a letter of reprimand for his alleged role in fixing a traffic ticket in 1989.

After the reprimand was issued, Apperson appealed the reprimand to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. But on Sept. 21, 1992, the board filed an order upholding Knight's reprimand of Apperson.

Apperson then sought administrative review of the board's order.

In June 1993, Circuit Judge John DeLaurenti found that the Granite City Police Department's general order regarding "pulling" traffic tickets was "vague, uncertain and indefinite," and further that the board's ruling was "clearly contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence."

DeLaurenti reversed the board's decision and ordered the reprimand stricken.

Knight said Wednesday that "Apperson is always filing a lawsuit and declined to comment further."

The lawsuit says that "(Apperson) was, and is, greatly injured in his reputation. His neighbors and other worthy citizens believed or suspected, and still believe or suspect, that (Apperson) was involved in allegedly fixing a traffic ticket."

It also says Apperson was forced to expend large sums of money to defend himself, and seeks $50,000 in actual damages and $50,000 punitive damages from Knight.

It also seeks $100,000 in actual damages from the city.

The suit says that Apperson believes the reprimand was issued "because of an investigation and allegations made by someone else into the conduct of an officer on the Granite City Police Department and a member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners."

Mission accomplished

Drive passes $166,000

Volunteers for the Salvation Army were all smiles when they turned in their bells last week after donations by Madison County residents ended up meeting and then exceeding this year's fund-raising goals.

The annual Tree of Lights Campaign raised $166,877 this year, surpassing the Salvation Army's $150,000 goal for the southwest region, a spokesman said Wednesday.

The southwest region includes Granite City, Collinsville and Edwardsville.

In Collinsville, about $32,500 was raised; in Edwardsville about $27,700; and in Granite City, Glen Carbon and Maryville, about $105,000.

The Tree of Lights Campaign raises money through bell ringing at area stores and through mailed donations. The bell ringing began Thanksgiving weekend and continued through Christmas Eve, but mailed donations will still be accepted.

The funds will be used to offset the cost of housing, utility bills, food and medicine for needy families throughout the region.

L. Tim Miller, who coordinates the campaign, was unavailable for comment Thursday.

New year, new tax regulations

Every year it's inevitable: first comes Santa, then the tax man. Santa stuck to tradition, but the tax man is complicating things by changing some of his rules. There's still time to ease the blow for '93, and taxpayers should get ready for changes for 1994.

New for '93 tax filings are more high-end tax rates and changes to tax brackets. Coming up this year is a bigger bite-out of Social Security income.

"These new changes are going to be very important to those receiving Social Security," said Rod Croxford, a certified public accountant in the Metro East.

In 1994, the percentage of Social Security income subject to taxation will increase from 50 percent to 85 percent. "The Tax Act of 1993 is a pretty comprehensive piece of legislation. It is pretty significant in terms of changes," Croxford said.

Professional tax preparers, as well as do-it-yourselfers, may need extra time to bone up on new rules, so Croxford advises

Federal tax laws were changed significantly

Federal tax laws were changed significantly this year, experts say. Some of the changes include:

• The 10-percent excise tax on luxury items such as furs, jewelry, aircraft and boats was repealed. The tax on expensive automobiles was modified.

• Some business owners can deduct purchases of business equipment of up to $17,500, up from $10,000 in 1992.

• Next year only 50 percent of the cost of business meals and entertainment will be deductible, down from 80 percent. Business owners no longer will be able to deduct club dues in 1994, even for entertaining clients.

• Charitable donations of cash and property worth more than $250 will require receipts.

• Moving expense deductions will not include meals, house-hunting trips or closing costs on new or old homes.

Kim Roth, a certified public accountant at Joseph R. Hughes accounting firm in Godfrey, said she is advising clients to buy and '94 that are going to require some professional help for a lot of people. "These are the biggest changes since 1986. People are going to have to be aware of the changes and effective dates."

Government must make streets safe for children

TO THE EDITOR:
An open letter to President Clinton:
There is an item of deep concern that does not appear anywhere on your agenda to rejuvenate this country.

I am not surprised that it has been overlooked.
After all, both you and your wife are attorneys.

The item to which I refer, sir, is the restoration of social justice in the United States of America.

It does not exist in 1993. All of the attorneys in this country, to include yourself, two-thirds of the Congress, the Supreme Court, and the vast majority of our other political leaders, are dedicated to "legal correctness," which may or may not have anything to do with justice.

A country which allows its high-priced legal talent to debate mass murder of five innocent citizens and the wanton wounding of 17 others, when the perpetrator is openly known, obviously guilty, and is currently protected under the law, by the very people whom he ravaged, has lost sight of justice entirely.

We live in a country whose leaders (and you lead the pack, Mr. President) make legal the abortion of the innocent and then bemoan the degrading of the value of human life.

This is, at best, terribly confused and, at worst, thumbing their collective noses at the God whom our forefathers trusted enough to place that phrase on each and every piece of legal tender used.

There is no doubt in my mind that the value of human life in the United States of America went to hell in a handbasket the day our Congress made abortions legal.

That value of human life, this day, is at an all-time, historical low.

Some people in this country want to treat criminals with kid gloves.

They insist on rehabilitation, whether it works or not. Their benevolence is unending. But what can these same people do to restore life of the innocent victims who had no day in court, no possible appeal of any kind, no mercy or consideration whatsoever? Nothing!

That is the honest answer. They can do nothing. They have no respect whatsoever for the dead and they want to "play God" with the living. Their efforts are a complete travesty of justice. But these are the people we have been listening to for the past 50 years, Mr. President. They are sorely misled "do-gooders."

What can be done about the lack of justice in our country today? There is much that can be done.

First and foremost, it occurs to me that there is a conflict of interest built into our governmental system. Attorneys populate government at all levels; attorneys write the laws, enact the laws, enforce the laws, interpret the laws and defend others against the law.

It seems to me that we sorely need a safety valve, at some significant level, to protect private citizens from the attorneys.

Somebody in this country needs to be in the business of ensuring justice under the law.

I realize that the Supreme Court is currently charged with that duty, but the Supreme Court is populated exclusively by attorneys. How could that solve the problem?

Your government, Mr. President, has the duty to provide each and every citizen (law-abiding) of these United States the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

You also have the duty to provide every criminal swift justice. The reality is that you are not doing that.

It is a condition you inherited, granted, but it is not one on which you can turn your back. Persecution of the innocents cannot continue.

Our children deserve to be able to walk the streets of their communities in safety. Today, they cannot. It is your job to return that right to them.

It is time for drastic action, Mr. President. Lack of it will trigger anarchy.

All the ballyhoo about gun control that politicians feed to a hungry public, starved for any possible solution to the mayhem which currently prevails in our streets, is just so much propaganda—and you know it.

Cuss don't kill people; people kill people.

And we don't seem to have the stomach to deal effectively and expeditiously with criminals. Our system is broke, Mr. President.

ident, and more police, more laws and more attorneys making outlandish salaries won't fix it.

The integrity to insist that we go back to basics, and to demand literal justice for all under the law, will begin to attend to the problem.

But, of course, you'll have to fight a whole lot of your cronies (lawyers) along the way.

BRUCE M. MORT
Granite City

Brady Bill is just 'a foot in the door'

TO THE EDITOR:
I long ago decided that the National Rifle Association's position of fighting any gun control legislation was archaic and detrimental to the public good.

I thought then, and still do think now, that automatic weapons and armor-piercing bullets have no place in the hands of the public.

But if I would bring this viewpoint up to an NRA member, he would always counter with, "If we let the foot of government in the door, they won't stop until every aspect of gun ownership has been controlled and restricted."

"Surely not," I would argue. "And besides, we have nothing to fear from our government nowadays."

Recent events are changing my mind. Passage of the benign Brady Bill (five-day wait to buy a gun) does not concern me. But it is clear that, in less than a week after it was passed, the administration and legislators were promising that this is only the beginning — and that there is need for a great deal more legislation.

They now admit that the Brady Bill will do little to solve the problem, and that it is only "the foot in the door," so to speak.

Perhaps I was wrong, again.

Tax

have a little more difficulty getting their taxes together. They need to gather tax information soon to decide which is more beneficial: abated the 1992 returns or to declare losses on their 1993 forms.

"People who disasters are going to need time to pull information together so (tax preparers) can determine the situations," Coxford said. Flood victims can file a casualty loss form to list personal and real estate property losses in excess of reimbursements, he said. "It could possibly be a deduction. They could take it in '92 on an amended form and get a quicker refund," he said.

Sandy Pippins, district manager of H&R Block in Wood River, said her office has been swamped by inquiries from flood victims since last summer. Getting tax benefits "depends on the tax situation," Pippins said.

"Some property loss deductions don't exceed the standard deductions, so there is nothing for them," she said. She has begun making sure you get all your records pulled together, every thing. Record keeping is very important," she said.

Having good records is important whether you are a flood victim or not. For those lucky enough to be in the higher income brackets, one of the biggest changes on the 1993 form are two new tax rates, bringing the total to five.

A married couple filing jointly will be taxed at 36 percent for taxable income of more than $140,000 and at 39.6 percent on taxable earnings of more than $250,000.

In 1992, the maximum rate was for a married couple was 31 percent on taxable amounts of more than $86,500. The bracket limits for the lower tax rates of 15 percent and 28 percent have been raised slightly for married couples filing jointly and similar amounts for others. The 15 percent bracket limit for couples is up to $38,900 this year from $35,000 in 1992. For the 28 percent bracket, the amount is in excess of $89,150, up from $86,500. The rates were retroactive to Jan. 1, 1993.

From the Alton Telegraph

Book to chronicle Great Flood of '93

The Suburban Journals continues to publish the Great Flood of '93 in order to publish a commemorative book chronicling the event. The hardback book will feature the people of our communities who struggled to fight back the rising waters.

Hundreds of photographs will fill the book. Many will come from readers. To complete the book, the editors and efforts during the historic event, the Journals are seeking photographs taken by you.

Prints may be black and white or color and should illustrate the theme of how people were affected by the flood. Photographs which include people have a better chance of publication in the book.

The accompanying coupon must be included with each photograph submitted. All submissions must be postmarked by Jan. 14, 1994, to be considered for publication.

Not all photographs will be used. They will not be returned regardless of inclusion in the book. The Journal will inform readers whether their photographs will be published and the distribution of the book. If published, the photographer will receive a $2.50 percent discount coupon on the book and will receive credit.

AFL-CIO schedules health care reform briefing

The national AFL-CIO's Health Care Reform Task Force has scheduled an information briefing session in Collinsville on Friday, Jan. 7.

The session will be held at 1 p.m. at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, located at Illinois 137 and Interstates 55/70.

The group also will hold a session the Jan. 6 in Rosemont. The purpose of the briefings, according to an AFL-CIO press release, is to furnish information for union leaders and to answer criticism of the reform plan supported by labor.

Union members and their families are urged to attend, and the event also is open to the public.

Those planning to attend should call Norma Gaines, secretary of the Greater Madison County Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO, at 931-1068.

At those rates, our typical family's real estate taxes were $1,963, $1,748 and $1,674, respectively.

In the three districts with the lowest average rates, the family's tax bill was $1,149 (Bayless, $9,131, $1,248; Brentwood, $9,583, and $1,250 (Lindbergh, $6,566).

Sales taxes applied to virtually every other type of spending, from groceries to prescription drugs to reading materials.

Specialized sales taxes include the gasoline tax (18.4 cents per gallon federal tax, 13 cents Missouri tax and 19 cents to Illinois). The average family buys 600 gallons a year, according to the Missouri Auto Club.

Specialized taxes also include utility taxes (4 percent in St. Louis, 5 percent in unincorporated St. Louis County and 10 percent in University City and Olivette).

All residents owe $296. If our typical family lived in the city of St. Louis or earned income there, it owed the city $389, the 1 percent earnings tax.

Property taxes were the next biggest tax expense. At $6,777, St. Louis' levy per $100 assessed valuation, taxes on a $117,940 home (the average price of homes sold from January through October 1993 in the Missouri portion of the region) were $1,517.

At the county average of $6.63, the tax was $1,486. Few county families pay the countywide average of $6.63.

Average rates in 13 school districts exceed that average, with Webster topping at $8.765, followed by Riverview Gardens at $7.804 and University City at $7.473.

Taxes more taxing than many think

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Taxes are, by far, the largest single item in the typical St. Louis area family's annual budget, grabbing at least one-third of the pie.

A four-person family living in unincorporated St. Louis County and earning $34,859 (the median income for the metropolitan area) paid $9,282 in direct taxes in 1993.

If this typical family lived in Belleville, Ill., its tax bill was $9,433; if it lived in the city of St. Louis, the tax bill was $9,648.

These totals actually may be too low, because they don't include personal property taxes, the $3 charge Lambert-St. Louis International Airport tacks onto every plane ticket, the $1.50 Missouri charges to dispose of used automobile tires and other fees.

These totals also do not include indirect taxes such as the employer's share of the Social Security levy or the unemployment insurance tax, taxes levied directly on products and paid by the manufacturer, such as federal taxes on alcohol and tobacco.

"People pay taxes and we pay them directly or indirectly," said economist John Weidenbaum of Washington University. "Let's face it, the various taxes business pays as the middleman eventually shows up in the prices they charge."

The statistics in this story are based on the 1991-92 Consumer Expenditure Survey, a U.S. Bureau of Labor report that put the St. Louis area median income at $29,859 and average annual spending at $28,341.

Taxes claimed 27 percent to 28

New Year rings in new laws

Crackdowns on lobbyists, uninsured drivers go into effect

Illinois has rung in the new year with laws requiring more disclosure of lobbyists' spending and putting new heat on motorists who drive without insurance. Secretary of State George H. Ryan said.

Also taking effect Jan. 1 are a package of laws aimed at getting drunks off the road and a statute giving Illinois businesses the tax advantages of a limited liability company.

All of the measures were proposed by Ryan.

"These laws protect consumers, bring government closer to the people of Illinois and provide for safer roads and a healthier environment," Ryan said.

"These laws touch on virtually every arena represented in the secretary of state's office, and they become law without imposing any burden on the average taxpayer."

Highlighting the package is Ryan's lobbyist disclosure law. The first ethics legislation to pass the General Assembly in a decade, it requires far more people to register as lobbyists and to disclose virtually all spending aimed at influencing state government decision-making.

While current lobbying laws deal only with efforts to pass legislation, Ryan's measure will require disclosure of attempts to influence a far wider array of state actions, including contracts, purchasing and rule-making.

"Lobbyists, for the first time, will be required to itemize and categorize spending," Ryan said. "They will have to report expenditures made to influence not only legislators, but a wider assortment of state officials, including all constitutional officers and many of their top administrators."

Other Ryan proposals taking effect with the new year would:

- Make the state's 4-year-old mandatory insurance law permanent. The measure — which Ryan has called "one of the best consumer protection laws on the books" — was set to sunset Dec. 31, but was permanently extended on a unanimous vote by legislators.
- Double the reinstatement fee for a first-time offender from $50 to $100 and by increasing the penalty of repeat offenders.
- He also streamlined enforcement by eliminating unnecessary court hearings. Instead, the law allows circuit judges to designate a court officer to determine whether a vehicle was properly insured at the time of an arrest.

Take aim at teen drunk driving by suspending the driving privileges of any minor caught transporting open liquor. A related measure mandates a $500 fine or 50 hours of community service for anyone caught with a fake driver's license.

Ryan also gained the authority to create a pilot program allowing ignition interlock devices to be a condition of a restricted driving permit for a repeat driver under the influence offender. Only someone with an alcohol-free breath can start a vehicle equipped with the device.

Other DUI laws taking effect Jan. 1 would reinstate mandatory testing for drivers ticketed in crashes causing serious injuries or death and close a loophole that let alleged DUI offenders off when an arresting officer could not appear in court.

Allow Illinois businesses the option of organizing as a limited liability company offering the tax advantages of a partnership and the legal protections of a corporation.

The law is expected to stimulate new investment in Illinois, particularly from foreign corporations.

Orsey ignored by Bar Association

Twelve Illinois lawyers have been honored by the Illinois State Bar Association for their outstanding efforts in providing free legal services to low-income clients.

The State Bar's highest award for lawyers, who serve the poor, the 1993 John C. McAndrews Pro Bono Service Award, was presented to Sandra Pellegrino of Peoria and to Randall Rapp, a Chicago lawyer who lives in McHenry County.

Special commendations were presented to Leanne Lantz of Joliet and to Dennis Orsey of Granite City.

In addition, eight lawyers received honorable mention certificates for providing legal service free (pro bono) to persons who could not afford to pay. The awards were presented in ceremonies Dec. 9 during the State Bar's midyear meeting in Chicago.

Chicago attorney Tom Leahy, president of the Illinois State Bar Association, presented the awards and praised the recipients. "In their busy schedules, these lawyers find time to serve the legal needs of clients who cannot afford to pay and, in so doing, exhibit the highest ideals of the legal profession," Leahy said.

Orsey is an assistant Illinois attorney general and is director of the Attorney General's Granite City Regional Office.

As president of the Madison County Bar Association last year and as chair of the bar's Pro Bono Committee, Orsey initiated a bar-sponsored pro bono program in cooperation with Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation in which private attorneys accept referred cases for clients who otherwise might go unrepresented.

Orsey has a lengthy list of community service activities in which he provides both legal and non-legal assistance. He has served since 1987 on the board of directors of the Tri-Cities United Way Inc.

Hike among events set at Mounds

A Volksmarch hike, a new exhibit, a lecture and Indian dancing will be featured during January at Cahokia Mounds, State Historic Site.

The grand opening of the third annual year round Volksmarch occurs Sunday, Jan. 22, at 9:30 a.m. The Volksmarch, a 10-kilometer (6.2 mile) trail around Cahokia Mounds, may be walked year round, and follows the site's nature/culture hike trail.

Participants may register in the Interpretive Center for the Jan. 2 event, or in the Museum Shop throughout the year. The Volksmarch is free unless a patch or I.V.V. credit is desired, and is sponsored by the Illinois Trekkers of Belleville, the A.V.A. and I.V.V.

"Hidden Talents II," a new temporary exhibit featuring arts and crafts produced by Cahokia Mounds staff and volunteers, opens Jan. 12 and runs through April 12. Included will be paintings, photography, wood carving, knitting, weaving, beadwork, poetry, sculpture jewelry and more.

The Kahok Dancers of Collinsville will present interpretive Indian dance performances on Sunday, Jan. 16, and Sunday, Jan. 30, at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The free performances will be presented in the Interpretive Center Auditorium.

The Winter Lecture Series begins Sunday, Jan. 23, at 1:30 p.m. with "The Choctaw, Past and Present: Persistence, Survival and Success in the Southeast" presented by Ken Carleton, tribal archaeologist for the Mississippi Band of Choctaws in Philadelphia, Miss. Carleton has done extensive archeology and research on the 18th and 19th century Choctaw sites, and will discuss his research and continuing Choctaw traditions in modern Mississippi. The free lecture will be held in the Interpretive Center Auditorium.

Winter hours will continue during January and February. The site and Interpretive Center will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday, and closed Mondays and Tuesdays.

Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, is 8 miles from downtown St. Louis near Collinsville off Interstates 55/70 and 255, and Illinois 111, on Collinsville Road.

It is open daily free of charge to the public, although a donation of $2 for adults and $1 for children is suggested to keep Cahokia Mounds and other Illinois historic sites open to the public. For more information, call 346-5180.

He's a very good one-on-one player.

"If Larren didn't get open, we wanted to kick it back to Jason. He was obviously the second option. Chris Kuit made a nice screen on the play."

"I was just concentrating on the rim and the ball going in," Mosby said. "I was looking for Jason. If I saw him open, I was going to try to get it to him. But I had to go because the time was going down."

MOSBY'S HEROICS eliminated the Lancers from the tournament and left them stunned as the Granite City players mobbed Mosby. Just minutes earlier, it looked as if the Lancers were headed for the consolation title game instead.

"That was a tough one to swallow," Belleville East coach Doug McCrary said. "He just pulled up and hit a great shot."

"Probably the only thing we could have done was to double-team him, but that would have left Black open and he would have nailed it."

Granite City's victory capped off one of the most exciting games of the tournament. The Warriors took a 41-40 lead into the fourth quarter and kept the advantage until Tanner's shot.

With 1:07 to play, Kuit knocked in both free throws on a one-and-one opportunity to give the Warriors a 50-46 lead. The Lancers took a time out, and Bob Beggs drilled a three-pointer to cut the lead to one with a minute to go.

BELLEVILLE EAST'S Javac Wright fouled the Wallace at the other end, and Wallace hit the first of two free throws to make it 51-49. The Lancers advanced the ball to the offensive end and called time out with 30 seconds left.

That set up the shot by Tanner, who scored with 17 seconds left—and perhaps a bit too soon. McCrary said the Lancers were looking to Tanner for a final shot.

"(Tanner) and Beggs both spotted up in the corner," McCrary said. He shot a little too early, but it was a good shot and it put the pressure back on Granite.

Although the Warriors had the lead through much of the fourth quarter, it took a third-quarter rally for the Warriors to get back into the game. The Lancers led 39-19 at halftime after holding the Warriors to just four points in the second quarter.

BLACK KEYD A 22-10 run early in the second half by converting a three-point play and then hitting two consecutive three-pointers put Belleville East's lead to 31. Black's free throw with 1:41 left in the quarter tied the score at 38, and Kuit smoothed out a jumper to put the Warriors ahead 41-40.

Granite City made a few adjustments at halftime and pressing Belleville East's guards. "We hurt ourselves in the third quarter," McCrary said. "We've been reaching that all year. They put a lot of pressure on us, but it's like it was ugly pressure."

"Coach dragged us in at half-time and said we weren't playing hard enough," Mosby said. "He just boosted us up."

Mosby finished with 17 points, and Black and Tanner both had a game-high 18 points. Wright added 10 for the Lancers.

THE WIN WAS Granite City's second of the season over Belleville East. The Warriors also defeated the Lancers 53-46 Dec. 17 in a Southwestern Conference game.

Both teams were missing a key player. Granite City's Pat Curry has been sidelined all year by a back injury, and Belleville East's Garrett Johnson was ill.

The Warriors improved to 4-5 with their second straight victory, which guaranteed them a fourth game at Collinsville.

The Lancers, who defeated Jacksonville 40-36 in the second round, fell to 2-7.

"We're getting there," McCrary said. "But we still got a lot to work on."

In the same game, you are not going to win many games." Despite the way the Devils played, they were never out of the game and the Miners kept letting them back in. Gillespie led 23-27 at halftime after Scott Katch hit a shot with no time left on the clock.

"It looked as though neither team wanted to win today, didn't it?" Gillespie coach Doug Zehr said. "We won the game, but we really did not play very well. We had a chance to put them away, but we didn't."

With less than two minutes remaining in the third quarter, Gillespie had a 15-point lead. Venice scored the last five points of the third quarter and the first five in the fourth to cut the lead down to five.

"I had our best player (Matt Alepra) sitting on the bench because he didn't follow instructions the time out before," Zehr said. "He took a shot when we told the kids to go into a stall. I would have liked to keep him out longer, but you can't sacrifice a game to get a point across so I put him back in."

By the time Alepra came back into the game, Venice had cut the lead to one.

The first thing he did was hit a three-pointer to give Gillespie a four-point lead.

"Still, the Miners kept trying to give the game to the Red Devils. But poor free-throw shooting was the downfall."

"We just don't seem to have the kids that want to go out there and work hard enough for the win," Harris said.

Jermaine Ware and Brandon Burnett led the Red Devils with 14 points apiece. Kevin Roberts added 11.

Venice left the tournament with a 2-2 mark. After defeating Vainmover 66-47 in the first round, the Red Devils lost to Waterloo 62-57 and then defeated Duplo 60-43 in overtime to advance to the fifth-place game.

The Red Devils dropped to 4-5 with the loss to Gillespie. Their next game is Tuesday at home against Madison.

had ones sometimes." The Kahoks had three other players in double figures against the Warriors: Doug Davinroy (13), John Curry (11) and Cory Garcia (10). Curry and Garcia are eligible again after their suspensions were lifted by Bone. Garcia played in the final three tournament games. Curry played in the last two. Neither player started any tourney game.

Van Buskirk, who is all too familiar with Garcia after Garcia scored 35 points against the Warriors in a game last season in Granite City, said the 6-foot-8 junior causes all kinds of problems for his team, which uses no one over 6-3.

"WHEN YOU HAVE a good outside game and a good inside game, that's a tough game to defend in a high school situation," Van Buskirk said. "We don't have anybody as big as Garcia."

Granite City lost its first tournament game, 51-40 to Peoria. The Warriors came back with victories over Madison (44-39) and Belleville East (53-52) before falling to the Kahoks.

In its four tournament games, Granite City scored 174 points. Black and senior Latren Mosby accounted for 112 points — 64.4 percent of the offense.

Mosby was named to the all-tournament team.

"Obviously, we have to be consistent," said Van Buskirk. "We have to get some offensive consistency. We have to get 10 points (per game) from the other three kids (Chris Kull, Rob Wallace, Corey Wallis). They have to get some confidence. You just hope that it comes."

Davinroy is one player not lacking confidence. A 6-3 junior, Davinroy scored 59 points in The Classic.

"Doug's playing a lot better now," Bone said. "That's one of the good things that came out of Garcia and Curry not being here. He had to score and he was able to. That helped his confidence."

NOTES: In the title game Thursday night, top-seeded East St. Louis Lincoln was upset by Peoria Central 58-53.

Lincoln (9-2) led by 12 points at halftime but scored only 15 points in the second half. The third-seeded Lions (10-1) got within five points (48-43) after three quarters and completed a 14-0 scoring run when Mike Taylor's basket gave Peoria Central a 50-48 lead with 5:07 to play.

A pair of free throws by Lincoln's Tyrone Caswell tied the game, but Peoria reeled off another eight consecutive points to take a 58-50 lead with 21 seconds left. The Tigers didn't get a basket from the field in the fourth quarter until August Hughes hit a three-pointer with 12 seconds remaining.

Caswell, who was named the tournament's MVP, and Hughes led Lincoln with 14 points each.

Denise McMillan is averaging 13 points per game this season.

•McMillan

But McMillan, who only averaged four points in her freshman year, credits Weller for her improved play.

"Coach Weller is so patient," McMillan said. "He never yells at us. It's such a relaxed atmosphere. If we make a mistake, he just tells us to shake it off. That's why I never got down on myself during a game. I know he'll never give up on me."

Such was the case against Triad on Tuesday in the consolation round of the Mascoutah Holiday Tournament. McMillan was only five of 15 from the floor and scored 11 points—but Weller never balked at McMillan shooting the ball.

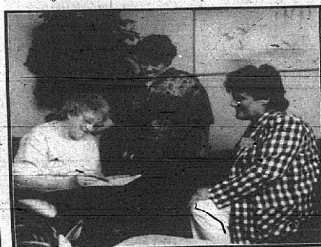

"Give Triad a lot of credit," Weller said. "They did an excellent job taking away the perimeter from her. But Denise worked for her shots. She might hit a little slump now and then, but I'm always encouraging her to shoot. She has a great release from the outside."

"It's all based on the law of averages," McMillan said. "I know all of my shots aren't going to fall, but I'm not going to back away."

"The idea is to keep shooting, or to find another way to help the team. If I hit a snag offensively, then it's up to me to make the perfect pass or a big play on defense."

"I'm pleased with my progress. TV's come a long way in one year."

3-1 After DeSmet scored a shorthanded goal, Ryan Gaddy answered with a goal assisted by Aaron Meyer and Aaron Reeves.

DeSmet outshot the hosts 40-15, but the Warriors had 10 shots in the final period.

"At that point, we started picking it up," Hinterser said. "We had some opportunities. We had a real good effort from just about everybody."

The loss was a short-lived boost of confidence for Warriors. The following night, Chaminate pounded Granite City 12-1.

The Warriors' only goal came at 7:12 of the second period. Craig Wagner scored on a play set up by Valencia and Sine.

The Flyers took a 2-0 lead in the first period and made it 6-0 before Wagner's goal. Chaminate, one of the better teams in the league, took its toll on Granite City's defense and outshot the Warriors 46-6.

Lee Rollins and Robbie Slater alternated in goal.

"They really didn't have many weaknesses," Hinterser said. "They were bigger and faster. We came out and played with them in the first period."

"The thing that hurt us was we coughed the puck up in our zone. We just handed the puck to them a couple of times."

The Warriors will now look toward the rest of the season. With eight games left, Hinterser would like to see the young Warriors build toward next year.

"We keep seeing signs that we're playing better," Hinterser said. "I'm getting some good efforts from this group."

Board of Realtors installs officers

1994 officers for the Granite City Board of Realtors are, from right, Lucinda Schmidt, Rod Flood, Rose Stern, Jeanette Holder, Beth Llewellyn, John Royce, Debbie Sander, Janet Partney and Neva Lucas.

The Granite City Board of Realtors held its annual installation of officers and fall banquet at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Those attending dressed in country and western attire to observe this year's theme, "Southern Country."

Entertainment was provided by the band Westwood. Master of ceremonies Wally Gorki, president of Midwest Title Company, led the festivities.

Special awards were presented by the 1993 president, Lucinda Schmidt, and banquet chairman, Robyn Richardson, to Granite City Mayor Ron Selph, honorary membership; Walter "Shang" Greathouse, honorary membership; Frank Flanigan, president of Madison County Title Co., the 1993 Affiliate of the Year; Charles "Chuck" Osborn, the 1993 most cooperative Realtor; and Burel Schmisser, the 1993 distinguished Realtor of the year.

Officers for 1994 were installed by Beth Llewellyn, Illinois Association of Realtors member liaison.

They are Lucinda Schmidt, 1993 outgoing president; Rod Flood, 1994 incoming president; Rose Stern, vice president; Jeanette Holder, secretary and treasurer; John Royce, director; Debbie Sander, director; Janet Partney, director; and Neva Lucas, director.

Take caution on auto body repairs

(Illinois Insurance Information Service).

Q. My car was damaged in a wreck a few months ago and now I'm having problems with the workmanship done by the auto body repair shop that fixed my car.

A. No, unless you received a warranty or guarantee from your insurance company for using one of their preferred shops. Not all companies do this.

Otherwise, you'll have to deal with the repair shop directly. You would not go to an insurance company if your doctor made a mistake in treating you; you would go back to the doctor. The same is true in this situation.

You could check your receipt to determine if the body shop provided you with a warranty or guarantee directly. Q. I've been without health insurance for many years. I'm a recovering alcoholic who's gotten my life back on track.

I went through alcoholism rehabilitation and I've been clean for a year, but I can't find any health insurance company that will insure me. Where can I go for insurance?

A. You should be able to get coverage through a state-sponsored program called ICHIP (Illinois Comprehensive Health Insurance Plan), which might be termed an insurer of last resort.

You'll be required to submit one letter of rejection signed by an insurance underwriter from one of the companies that denied you coverage.

There will also probably be a six-month waiting period in which any pre-existing condition will not be covered.

Millstadt woman expanded on basic German cooking

A visit to Doris Huwer's house in Millstadt can be a tasty one. Doris is bound to have something good to eat upon your arrival.

"I love to entertain," said Doris. Doris entertains one or two times a month, always serving a full meal that may include Doris favorites — lasagna or Italian beef.

Doris learned basic German cooking from her mother, Hilda Volkman.

When she married her late husband, Oliver Huwer, she expanded her cooking abilities with him. Oliver had a reputation for good cooking. He cooked for the U.S. Air Force officers. His chili was preferred over others. When he came home, Oliver did a lot of the cooking.

"He liked to entertain as much as I do," said Doris. Doris and Oliver would cook a meal together when having friends over. Oliver would cook the meat dish and Doris would make the side dishes. They also liked to make Christmas cookies together.

"It was kind of nice to have a hobby together," said Doris. Some of Doris's favorite recipes are German potato salad, punch cake, oatmeal and fruit cocktail cookies. The fruit cocktail cookies are a big seller for the "Cookie Walk," the Lutheran Trinity Church in Millstadt has annually in December.

Doris likes to bake more than cook. She gets a lot of help from her 10-year-old granddaughter, Rachel, who lives across the street. Rachel helped make a no-bake cookie called a Snowball, which also was popular at the "Cookie Walk."

Doris says Rachel also likes to make and eat brownies.

Having a large collection of cookbooks, Doris laughs, "I always say I'll never buy another cookbook but I go some place and say to myself 'It's for a good cause,'" always buying the school and church fund-raising cookbooks.

Besides cooking, Doris enjoys painting and recently learned to play the dulcimer. She plays with the Millstadt Dulcimer Strummers and Belleville Friend Dulcimer Club.

Doris shares some of her favorite recipes. The Punch Cake, she recently made for Rachel's birthday. The Cranberry-Apple-Pineapple mix she developed when she had these three fruits on hand. She serves it as a salad or dessert. Here are her recipes:

Punch Cake

1 sm. (3 oz.) box peach gelatin
¼ cup hot water
4 eggs
¼ cup oil
1 pkg. yellow cake mix
¾ cup sugar
1-6 oz. can of frozen punch

Mix gelatin with hot water; set aside to cool. Mix eggs well with oil, add cake mix and gelatin mixture. Pour into greased tube cake pan. Bake at 350°F for 45 minutes to 1 hour. Have thawed punch ready; punch holes into cake with wooden spoon handle when cake comes from oven. Pour punch over cake while in pan, let stand 1½ hrs. before removing. Serves 12-16; 319 calories; 46 grams carbohydrate, 3 grams protein, 14 grams fat.

*Different combination gelatin and frozen concentrate may vary.

Cappuccino Mix

1 cup instant coffee creamer
1 cup instant chocolate drink mix
½ cup instant coffee or decaffeinated coffee
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Store in airtight container. To prepare 1 cup add 2 to 3 tablespoons to 6 oz. cup hot water stir well. Yields 3 cups dry mix. For each serving, using 2

Tbsp: 50 calories, 11 grams carbohydrate, 2 grams fat. *You may switch coffee and chocolate mix portions and vary cinnamon and nutmeg to your liking.

Greek Rice

1 cup rice (raw)
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 sm. can mushrooms
1 can french onion soup mix
1 soup can hot water with 1 beef bouillon cube

Mix all ingredients in casserole dish; cover; bake in 350°F oven for 1 hour. Serves 4; 510 calories, 50 grams carbohydrate, 6 grams protein, 10 grams fat.

Cranberry-Apple-Pineapple Mix

1 cup cranberries
1 cup apples, ground
1 cup pineapple, crushed
sugar or sugar substitute
Dream Whip or whipped topping, whipped, use enough to moisten fruit
Combine all ingredients
Serves 4; nutrition information will vary.

270 attend Social Club dinner and dance; out-of-towners visit area

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nanticoke Township area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 831-5256.

The Social Club hosted the annual Christmas dinner and dance on Dec. 30 in the township hall with 270 in attendance. The dinner was catered by Jerry's Cafeteria.

Special guests were Mayor Ron Sefp, Tom Hallock, township supervisor, Nellie Hagauer, Debbie Salich, representative of the Granite City office of Congressman Jerry Costello, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dorch.

Watson Mercer gave the invocation and boxes of candy were given to each one in attendance by Thomas Memorial Mortuary.

Attendance prizes was won by Bobby Pissar. The tables were decorated with Christmas place-mats, napkins and vases filled with flowers. The Alley Cats provided the music for dancing at the festive occasion.

Thanks to the officers, board of directors for the gifts and donations. Also, thanks to Joe McGinnis and Sandy Pence for providing tickets for special gifts and some attendance prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mercer, brother of special guest Bernice Mercer, have recently moved back here from California.

Everyone enjoyed the lovely holiday party and a good time was had by all.

No games will be played on Sundays in January. The next meeting is at 6 p.m. Monday, Jan. 24.

Rev. Kenneth Greathouse, pastor of the Mitchell Apostolic Pentecostal Church, and his wife, Peggy, were honored with an open house on Dec. 23 in their home by members of the church.

A special buffet dinner and fellowship were enjoyed by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Greathouse of Belleville; Don and Shirley Buckingham; Vicki Harper; Jeanette Wiesenburg; Ty and Billie Hancock of Alton; Karen Greathouse; Kevin and Jennifer Greathouse and children; Christian and Tyler; Ray and Angie Jones; and Joe Thompson of Stanton.

John and Cheryl Birdsong and children, Shawna and Skip, spent Sunday in Mount Vernon, Ill., visiting John's mother, Wilma Birdsong.

Rocky and Cleda Mayes of Bettendorf, Iowa, spent the holidays visiting their daughter and her family, Tom and Debe Rees and children, and other relatives and friends in the area.

William and Kathleen Grammer have returned to their home in DeSoto, Mo., after spending several days during the holidays visiting their relatives. While they were here they also attended an open house Dec. 23 in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Carol and Gary Smith, near Wilson Park. There were approximately 75 other guests.

The Christmas meeting of the Golden Agers was in the Salvation Army Hall on Dec. 16. The meeting was opened by the new president, Dorothy Castleman, followed by singing "Jingle Bells" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," led by Bud Scatturo.

Bertha Bradley, Roberta Jackson, Juanita Buckingham, Irene Daves, Lena Wood, Lenora Cumerford, Brenda and Charles Collins, Evelyn Bringer, Ed and Betty Nida and Beulah McKenna all were recognized for their birthday or anniversary and each received a gift from the Salvation Army.

Minutes of the November meeting were read by Harriett Bull, secretary. Prayer requests were mentioned for the sick and oppressed and Bud Lipe led in prayer. Ernestine Hahn gave a talk on Christmas presents and an "Ode to Mom."

Ret. Major Miller, father of Lt. Tim Miller, gave a talk on the true meaning of Christmas. He is now helping the Granite City Corps over the holidays. The kitchen band provided music.

Earl Spalding gave a reading on "What is Christmas?" Dorothy Castleman quoted the second chapter of Luke. Lt. Miller had a Christmas greeting for everyone and they received a box of candy and a Christmas mug.

The women from Home League served as hostesses. There were Nina Hall, Loretta Collins, Redfern Kollins and Frances Kollins and Margaret Oliver.

Adrian and Erma Gregory attended their first meeting in three months, they had been ill. Nora Morgan of Colonial Haven and Dorine Harter attended. Others attending were Ed and Goldine Van Scoyk, Emerald and Irene Dawes, Ed and Betty Nida, Vi Atkins, Roberta Jackson, Lucille Bringer, Marie Benson, Jo Harper, Evelyn Bringer, Pete and Lucy Adams, Hilda Fowler, Mary Tankley, Jo Wilkinson, Irma Bernaia, Lillian Barton, Harriett Bull, Evelyn Miles, Lenora Cumerford, Margie Syerinski, Annabelle Murphy, Ernestine Hahn, Nora Morgan, Imogene Holbrook, Beulah McKenna, Doris Hawthorne, Bill and Betty Holloway, Morris B. Lipe, Charles Collins, Brenda Collins, Evelyn Mott, Thelma Morelon, Gerlie Spalding and Juanita Buckingham.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 20 at the Salvation Army Hall. If you need a ride, call 451-7987.

HEA holds party

The Granite City Unit of Madison County Home Extension Association held its Christmas party at Brenda's. The hostesses for the affair were Sophia Thomas and Ann Miller.

There were 23 members and five guests present. The guests were Mandy Weston, Ann Cyvrog, Olga Johnson, Pauline Holman and Marilee Johnson.

After a luncheon there was a gift exchange. President Mary Evelyn Yencio conducted the meeting. Betty Goldschmidt handed out patterns for a stuffed teddy bear, which the ladies are to make and hand in by Jan. 15. Yencio announced she is the new district president and Helen Harshy is the new treasurer.

The next meeting will be Jan. 4 at the Anchorage Recreational Center.

Another fun and easy project!

Amanda Doll

from the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Here's a great way to start the new year off! Make one or several of these adorable Amanda dolls. They're easy, fun, and all the materials you'll need are available at any Frank's store.

MATERIALS NEEDED:

- 2" wood pre-painted doll head
- 1 pkg. each white and mauve tissue two
- One 1/2" wood dowel
- 4" wood heart
- Four 20mm wood beads
- 1 piece 16-ga. wire
- 9" of 1/4" lace
- Curly mini doll hair
- 1/4" satin ribbon
- Acrylic paints: Light peaches and cream; white, dk. brown or black, cactus green
- Needle and heavy thread
- Tacky Glue
- Thin floral wire
- Cool melt glue and gun
- Small white flowers

Step 1: Cut two 12" pieces of dowel. Use Tacky Glue and glue dowels together side by side; the top 6" down. Then glue the bottom ends to the center of the heart. Also glue a wood bead in front of each dowel, forming feet. Cut the 16-ga. wire to 10 1/2" and glue a bead to each end. Fill exposed holes on beads with cool melt glue and smooth over holes. Using 2 coats of paint and sanding between coats if needed, paint hands peaches and cream; base cactus green; legs white; feet and up the dowel 1/2" for shoes dark brown or black. When dry, add dots of white to sides of shoes as buttons.

Step 2: Open tissue twist, cut sizes as needed, glue together with tacky glue. Cut 2 pieces of white twist 3" long. Glue together side by side and then into a tube. Fold up to inside a 1/2" hem and glue. Gather with needle and thread 1 1/2" from bottom edge. Slip over legs, pull up stitches and knot. The top edge is glued right at the top of the legs, and the bottom is 3/4" from the base.

Step 3: Dress. Cut 3 pieces 12" long. Glue together side by side and then into a tube. At bottom edge, glue a 1/2" hem to inside and top edge a 1/2" hem to outside. Gather 2 1/2" from bottom edge, slip over body, pull up stitches and knot, then glue. Hand gather top around neck at top of dowels. Put some glue into center and hold until set. Fold down top edge for collar. Glue doll head into center of collar.

Step 4: Sleeves: For each sleeve, cut 2 pcs. 6" long. Glue together and then into a tube. Gather each 1" from one end, slip over hand, pull up gathers and glue. Wrap with floral wire. Turn back sleeve to expose hand. Tuck wire and inside the other at center and wire. Glue to back of body.

Step 5: Remove top edge from the lace. Re-gather and glue around neck. Make a bow and glue at front neck. Tie ribbon around each wrist and into a bow. Cool melt doll hair over head.

Step 6: Wrap and glue a length of white twist around the drop waist. Form a bow with a center loop and glue to the side of the waist. Trim ends. Make a bow from the dress color, wire in center, covering with a scrap of twist and glue to back of head. Add extra hair if needed. Glue the small flowers together and then into doll's hand. Add ribbon to the flowers.

We'll be presenting more projects in upcoming columns.

Horoscope

Sunday, Jan. 2
The moon in Virgo makes a series of positive aspects that have to be seen to be believed. Problems on all levels begin to draw solutions. Those who make the most of this energy will be the people who are eager to be useful. As you wait for developments in your outer world, spend time structuring your inner world, and you'll be rewarded.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): There's virtue in orderliness if you want to maximize your time for top-priority items. If you have mechanical ability, put it to good use at home or in the garage. Whatever preparations you make will smooth out your week.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You feel right at home when you have something useful to do. No one understands better than you that promises mean nothing unless they're backed up with action. Your closets are begging to be cleaned out.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): Now you have a chance to decide what's essential. In any event, avoid being trapped by the little things that will only cause you to be irritable. The early morning hours should be the most productive for organization.

CANCER (June 22-July 22): Uh-oh, the nagging moon child could re-emerge if you are feeling irritable. Rather than causing waves, however, demonstrate the right way of doing things, and then stand back. Others must learn to be their own keepers.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23): You benefit from sitting at a table with your checkbook and facing the financial facts of life. A change in income starts with a change in your attitude toward saving money. Avoid getting boxed into a corner.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Jan. 2): Your Capricorn effectiveness is doubled — perhaps bringing the most magical and unusual year of your life. Financial obligations are lifted in late January. Job-related travel or education is likely in February. Great imaginative powers regarding investments are yours in April. Influential friends are of help in May and June. You have loose ends to handle from a past relationship in June or November.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): The moon in Virgo adds to your happiness in every possible way but first by helping you feel better physically. In personal relationships, communication should flow easily. Others are yearning to know that you love them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): Harmony reigns when you focus on the larger picture rather than the minor details. Before criticizing, understand the power you have to wound. You're a better chance of getting what you want through love — not fear.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Material conditions continue to improve, and you now have a chance to stock up on necessities. Homestudy courses have the potential to turn on your hidden potentials. Inspiration should be made practical.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A natural skepticism toward philosophical or spiritual matters is to be expected while the moon is passing through Virgo, but you would be putting yourself at a disadvantage to not listen at all. Make the right calls.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You have the power to change these conditions that are limiting you — in fact, if you don't, you will continue to carry your discontent into your love life. Your partner's advice can be invaluable in financial areas. Be a listener.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Requests made of others may fly completely over their heads, leaving you to handle matters yourself. In any event, you still have a public that is waiting for you to make your next move. Sufficient rest helps you keep your glow.

The image shows the front cover of a book. The main part of the cover is a dark, textured material, possibly cloth or leatherette, in a deep charcoal or black color. On the left side, there is a vertical strip of a different material, which is light-colored (off-white or cream) and features a subtle, repeating geometric pattern. This strip appears to be part of the book's spine or a decorative half-binding. The edges of the cover show some wear and slight fraying.

A dark, textured surface, possibly a book cover or endpaper, with a vertical strip of lighter material on the left side. The dark area has a grainy, almost wood-grain-like texture. The lighter strip on the left is a solid, off-white color. There is a faint, vertical line or crease running down the center of the dark area.
